Tundra's funds now also available from Movestic

Tundra's funds will now be available through Movestic Liv & Pension. This means that even more investors will be able to choose Tundra funds when saving for the future and for their occupational pension.

Movestic Liv & Pension will initially offer the Tundra Frontier Opportunities and Tundra Pakistanfond products in their range. Movestic was founded in 2000 and specialises in savings products and occupational insurance. The partnership with Tundra is part of offering the best and most attractive funds in the marketplace.

The partnership with Movestic is Tundra's second recent distribution agreement. Tundra Fonder also recently started to work with Skandia, which now offers Tundra's funds as part of its range. Tundra already has existing agreements with Swedish, Norwegian and Finnish intermediaries.

"This latest partnership with Movestic confirms that our funds are in great demand. We are pleased that our clients now have additional channels through which they can purchase Tundra's funds. Tundra now provides Scandinavia's widest range of frontier market funds, making us a widely attractive partner," says Jon Scheiber, Tundra Fonder's CEO.

"We constantly strive to offer our customers the most attractive funds. Tundra fits this description well," says Per Friman, Movestic's Investment Director.

Tundra Fonder has distribution agreements in Sweden with Aktiespararnas Aktieinvest, Avanza Bank, Nordnet, Fondmarknaden.se, Garantum Fondkommission, Max Matthiessen, MFEX Mutual Funds Exchange, Nasdaq Nordic Fund Market, Skandia, Nord Fondkommission and Movestic Liv & Pension. The fund platforms also make the funds available to most Swedish private banks. There are distribution agreements in Finland with Elite and Nordnet, and in Norway with Skandia and Nordnet.
